JACK JOHNSON KNOWS HIS PLACE WHEN IN THE EAST

Heavyweight Champion Acts Differently in Chicago and San Francisco—Struts Around Conspicuously in the West but is Very Meek in the Windy City.

Jack Johnson in San Francisco and Jack Johnson in Chicago must be another case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Down in Frisco the big negro is cordially disliked because he swells and struts around and elbows white men aside while walking his way to the bar to order a white man to wait on him. The color line is not very clearly defined in Frisco, at that, but Johnson has made himself decidedly unpopular there since he became prominent as a fighter.

In Chicago it is decidedly different if the following from the Chicago Journal is correct:

"Fight fans who take keen delight in reading of Jack Johnson's 'joy rides' and frequent arrests for breaking speed limits often wonder how it is that he, a colored pugilist, is never barred from well hotels as has been the fate of fighting Nelson and Jack O'Brien white fighters."

"The answer is this: Johnson knows his place. He knows the prejudice that exists in many quarters concerning the black man. Outside of that he knows that many exclusive hostlers do not care for the patronage of prize fighters. Therefore he never puts himself in the way of trouble. He never seeks accommodations at these hotels, and is therefore never turned down. When he travels he makes it a point to ride on the best and fastest trains, but seldom shows himself to the passengers. Reservations are usually made through his manager and he takes a stateroom or drawing room to himself. There he is served with his meals and it goes without saying that he receives every attention possible from the beaming and admiring porters and colored waiters."

"At stations where stops of five or ten minutes are made the black fighter quietly steps out to the platform to stretch his elongated limbs, and just as unobtrusively goes back to his apartment."

"When staying in Chicago the fighter seeks quarters in the home of some well-to-do black brother in the 'black belt.' He seldom invades the downtown district and can only be found in places where he is assured of a welcome."

"He never makes himself conspicuous and when in the presence of white men he conducts himself in a most unassuming manner."

"Pulse fighting, like politics, makes queer bedfellows at times, and by 'staying in his place' Johnson is warmly welcomed by all with whom he comes in contact."

"He prides himself upon being a gentleman, and boasts that he has always acted in a manner to which no one might take exception."

DULUTH MEN TO CLEVELAND.

The hockey season opens in Cleveland on Dec. 4.

It is probable that on the teams in the Ohio city at least three players will be again from Duluth, says the Herald.

At Cummings, who played hockey at that place last winter, is lined up with the Salens, Eddie Winters will play with the Clevelanders and George McLaughlin is lined up with the same team.

At a meeting of the league managers recently it was decided to open the season Dec. 4 and close on March 8.

Cleveland managers are hot after Duluth hockey players, and Roy Deetz and Ed Furni are the men most desired. Because of an injury while playing the game some two years ago, it is probable that Deetz will not play the game for some time to come. Furni is as yet undecided as to whether or not he will accept.

The teams will all be stronger this year than last, and the biggest season ever experienced in Cleveland is being looked forward to.

KETCHEL CONSIDERING OFFER.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Stanley Ketchel has partly forgotten the sorrow which last week had him in a terrible condition—the death of Manager Britt—and has begun to talk fight. Stanley declares he is considering an offer to meet Billy Papke before a New Orleans club, as well as Coffroth's offer to fight Hugo Kelly at Colma. The middleweight champion adds that he will not consider any fight before New Year's day.

"I will give Papke a fight in the near future," said Ketchel. "I think Billy is a great boy and would put up a great fight with me. When I get ready to enter the ring again I will meet all the prominent middleweights and Papke will be one of the first to get a chance at my title."

GOTCH DOWNS ROLLER.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18.—After an hour and fourteen minutes hard wrestling Tuesday night, during which both men appeared to be doing their utmost, Frank Gotch of Humboldt, Iowa, remains the champion wrestler of the world, having defeated Dr. Benjamin P. Roller of Seattle, in straight falls.

The first fall was gained in 46 minutes and 29 seconds, the champion using half-Nelson and clutch hold. The second he won with the punishing toe hold in 27 minutes and 39 seconds. In the second fall, after fifteen minutes of fast work, Roller got Gotch in a trying position, and for a time it appeared almost certain the Iowa's shoulders would touch the mat.

CHALLENGE FOR SCULLY

The manager of Kid Jackson made the following announcement this week. There has been considerable talk about the city of a match between Kid Jackson and Tommy Scully. I have been authorized by Jackson to make the following proposition: Jackson will meet Scully in a ten round boxing exhibition for a decision at any time that he may designate. The only condition we will insist upon is that both men shall weigh in at 129 pounds at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the bout. I am prepared to back Jackson with a bet of $250 or $300 at any time this challenge is taken up. If this challenge is accepted I with Jackson, will meet Scully and his manager and sign the proper articles.

PLAYERS LOSE WEIGHT.

The cold gray dawn of the morning after found the Yale football players pretty well worn out and two of them badly out of condition. It was found that the weights had shrunk badly as a result of the thirty-five-minute grueling halves against Princeton in the humid atmosphere. Capt. Ted Coy led in weight shrinkage, as he does in everything else physical. He had been marked down ten pounds. Johnny Kilpatrick, left end, came next with nine, and Ted Lilley and Fatty Cooney were well under weight. No player lasted through the game without dropping at least six pounds. The loss of the squad was 114 pounds.

FOOTBALL HUMOR.

Even the Thick of the Fray Provides Funny Situations.

Football, even in the heat of the battle, is not without its humorous elements and in Saturday's game at Madison, Fullback Pickering of the Minnesota team earned the title of King Humors of the Conference colleges. After the game Pick took dinner with some of his Wisconsin fraternity brothers and that's how the story leaked out.

"Along toward the end of the game when we felt that we had won and that Wisconsin would not trouble us any more," said the plumping fullback as he stretched before the grate fire, "all the Minnesota boys were feeling pretty jubilant. I was feeling especially happy. I was carrying the ball and Moll tackled me. The whole crowd jumped on top of us and when they started to pile off and I opened my eyes, I was looking right into Keekie Moll's face, not 2 inches away."

"I didn't want to appear boorish, so

EASTERN TITLE WILL BE DECIDED ON SATURDAY

It has been evident for some time that the most important football game on eastern grids this year would be the struggle between Harvard and Yale, to be played at Cambridge Saturday.

Because of the rather inferior quality of football that Harvard has played prior to last year, it has not brought together the two strongest elevens in the east. As a rule, the honor of having the strongest team in this section has been as frequently claimed by Princeton or Pennsylvania. But this year Harvard and Yale have gradually drawn away from the other institutions and are in a class by themselves.

Not in a good many years have Yale and Harvard been as evenly matched and as determined as they are this time. The two teams have played two opponents in common, but it is rather difficult to pass judgment as a result of them. Both played West Point and Brown, but each met the common enemy under totally different circumstances. Yale met West Point two weeks before Harvard did, but the Crimson met Brown two weeks in advance of Yale. In both cases the comparative scores favor Yale. Yale beat the Army eleven 13-0, but the first half ended with the score 9-0. It is impossible to compare the two elevens on this game because it was early in the second half, with the score 9-0 in favor of Harvard, that the West Point captain, Byrne, was killed, thus ending the game. Similarly, Yale has the better of the argument over the Brown game. Harvard beat Brown with a score 11-0, but Yale doubled the Crimson total with 23 to 0.

TIM HARRINGTON TO SEEK MATCH WITH JACK ROWETT

Tim Harrington of Butte, is eagerly preparing for his match with Sidney Sage foundation which is to take place at the Calumet theater on Saturday evening. Harrington has worked hard all week and after a short workout tomorrow morning expects to rest until Saturday evening. Harrington weighs about 156 pounds, and will enter the ring at about 154. He asserts that he is in the pink of condition and that he expects little difficulty in overcoming the copper country man. Harrington is taking a chance, and feels that he must defeat Chapman to get a chance to win back the honors he lost to Rowett.

The Butte man will seek another match with Rowett and hopes for better results next time. The Bessemer game warden was first good heavyweight he had met in a number of years, and Harrington feels that a second encounter would be attended by better results. He is anxious to return to Butte before the holidays, and will endeavor to arrange the match before that time. Harrington would also welcome a match with Ziehr before he returns to Butte. He

In a jocular way, I said: 'Why, how do you do Mr. Moll? I'm delighted to meet you.'

"Sorry I can't say the same to you," responded Keekie, "but every time I meet you it pains me."

"He looked it, too, for the poor fellow was about as much used up as any football man I have ever seen."

America's Uncrowned Queen of the Poor

New York, Nov. 18.—The Russell Sage foundation announced tonight that it is almost prepared to enter a national campaign to drive loan sharks out of business by taking over their business, providing congress will pass a law permitting poor men to pay back loans at 2 per cent. a month interest.

That would be 24 per cent. a year, which is four times the legal rate of interest in New York state and nearly four times that in the majority of other states.

The benevolently founded organization says, however, that if congress will permit charitable institutions to collect the 12 per cent. a year on salaries it will save the poorer class of borrowers throughout the country something like 25 per cent.

WASMUND NOW COACHES.

With Miller at quarterback for the first time in two years, the Michigan eleven on Monday began its preparation for Saturday's game with Minnesota.

Wasmund, who has played his last game for Michigan, has joined the coaching squad, and today worked with Miller during the entire practice, which consisted of signal work. Coach Yost has not returned from Detroit, but he will join the squad before tomorrow's practice.

It has been rumored persistently since the return of the team that Clark is to be derricked and Magidsohn, the plunging half back, shifted from left half to full back.

To fill Magidsohn's place at half, the same rumor has it that Freaney is to be pressed into service.

SEA TRIP FOR KETCHEL.

Stanley Denies Story Circulated About His New Manager.

Stanley Ketchel, who is in Frisco, denies the stories that he has secured a manager named Ryan, or that he signed for a ten round fight in Los Angeles before Tom McCarey's club with Fireman Jim Ryan.

"I don't know where all these stories come from," he said, "I don't know this fellow they say is my manager, and there are plenty of men with bank rolls I could name for the job if I wanted a man."

Ketchel looks to be in good condition, but says he may take a long sea voyage, as he needs a rest.
